

TABLE OF CONTENTS – Cooperative Veterinary Care

Acknowledgments ix

About the Companion Website xi

1 Introduction to Low• -Restraint and No• -Restraint Veterinary Care 1

1.1 First, Do No Harm 1

1.2 Stress, Fear, and the Veterinary Clinic 2

1.3 Freedom, Wants, and Needs 2

1.4 Iatrogenic Behavioral Injury 3

1.5 Introduction to Low• - and No• -Restraint Animal Care 4

References 9

2 Perception and Communication 11

2.1 Sensation and Perception 11

2.2 Stress and Fear 19

2.3 Body Language 21

2.4 Causes of Stress in the Veterinary Setting 40

References 44

3 Learning, Conditioning, and Training 45

3.1 Classical Conditioning 45

3.2 Operant Conditioning 49

3.3 Habituation, Sensitization, Desensitization, Counterconditioning, and More 58

3.4 The ABCs of Behavior 63

3.5 Fundamental Training Skills 67

References 87

4 Successful Visits: Environment and Protocols to Prevent Fear and Stress 89

4.1 Setting Up for Success: Before the Visit 89

4.2 During the Visit 91

4.3 Happy Visits and Other Preventative Planning 103

4.4 Hospitalization, Treatments, Diagnostics, and Boarding 108

References 119

5 Level One Patients and Training 121

5.1 Introduction to the Levels of Training 121

5.2 Identifying Level One Patients 121

5.3 Level One Training: Dog Exam Room and Examination 126

5.4 Level One Training: Cat Exam Room and Examination 132

5.5 Level One Training: Injections and Sample Collection 135

5.6 Administering Medications and Grooming 143

References 148

6 Level Two Patients and Training 149

6.1 Level Two Training 149

6.2 Identifying Level Two Patients 149

6.3 Level Two Training: Dog Exam Room and Examination 154

6.4 Level Two Training: Cat Exam Room and Examination 160

6.5 Level Two Training: Injections and Sample Collection 164

6.6 Administering Medications and Grooming 171

References 181

7 Level Three Patients and Training 183

7.1 Level Three Training 183

7.2 Identifying Level Three Patients 184

7.3 Preparing to Train	188
7.4 Making a Training Plan	190
7.5 Getting Started: Approach, Target, and Station	191
7.6 Teaching Consent, Touch, and Restraint	196
7.7 Muzzle Training	201
7.8 Physical Examination Training	202
7.9 Treatments, Sample Collection, and Imaging	207
7.10 Grooming	212
7.11 Additional Consent Options	216
7.12 Level Three Cats	218
8 Additional Patient Resources	223
8.1 Introduction	223
8.2 Neutraceuticals and Pharmaceuticals	223
8.3 Professionals and Their Roles	226
References	227
9 Implementation Strategies	229
9.1 Change Is Never Easy	229
9.2 Proposing Change	229
9.3 Overcoming Obstacles: Common Concerns and Questions	231
9.4 Making Change for the Right Reasons	237
Reference	238
Appendix	239
Glossary	241
Index	249.